Top 5 features of the NOW: Pensions Gateway site

NOW: Pensions Gateway provides payroll bureau administrators and accountants with a simple and modern interface to manage pension submissions for multiple employers and payroll groups. It has been designed in consultation with bureaux, accountancy firms and workplace pension experts, focusing on the most efficient way to help employers meet their auto enrolment obligations, whilst keeping administrative overheads as low as possible.

1 Cutting edge technology perfectly tailored for auto enrolment

The NOW: Pensions Gateway site has been developed using the latest technology and has been extensively tried and tested over a number of months with overwhelmingly positive feedback. We've used everything we know about auto enrolment to develop a cutting edge system, perfectly tailored to meet the needs of your payroll bureau, suitable for any number of clients.

2 Simple to navigate and easy to understand

The NOW: Pensions Gateway site is jargon free with easy to understand language and explanations at every stage.
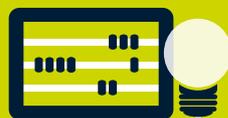

The site is designed to support multiple clients helping you at every step of their auto enrolment journey. Whether that's locating clients' Direct Debit history, or checking up on issued communications, navigating the site should be simple.

3 Administration minimised

Auto enrolment administration is a task you probably don't want you or your colleagues to spend a huge amount of time on. NOW: Pensions Gateway is designed to keep administration to an absolute minimum.

Time saving features include:

- Drag and drop facility allowing multiple pension data file uploads in just one click
- Payroll timetable uploaded after the very first time. The system will work with an automatic payroll submission – meaning you don't have to repeat yourself every week or month depending on your payroll frequencies
- Instant password reset
- Separate login details to share with your clients, granting viewing access to their Direct Debit history, contribution amounts and sent employee communications.

4 Seamless integration with your payroll software provider

NOW: Pensions' Gateway works alongside your existing payroll software provider, so setup is straightforward.

The site also offers easy to follow, built-in file validation, so you can be confident that the pension data files you're uploading to the NOW: Pensions Gateway are correct. Any data errors will be instantly flagged so you can correct them straight away.

5 Designed with your payroll bureau in mind

No matter how many clients you serve, NOW: Pensions' Gateway can adapt to your business and support a growing numbers of clients at all stages of their auto enrolment journey. This includes:

- The ability to reconcile payments, providing a clear audit trail assisting with compliance
- Useful reminders about processing opt outs and opt ins.
- Introduction of a 'null' submission option, where there are no contributions in a pay period.
